DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 8/9/2005 has been entered.

Applicant's arguments and the declaration have been fully considered but they are not persuasive to overcome the rejection of all of the claims. The claims remain rejected for the reasons of record. The exception is claim 10 as applicant's arguments are persuasive that there was no expectation of success in producing the specific deposited cell line. Applicant has made arguments which aren't commensurate in scope with the claims. The amendment to claim 1 does not serve to distinguish over the art since it only requires "features" of sebocytes and applicant's arguments are not persuasive that one wouldn't expect at least some features of the sebocytes to remain after SV40 immortalization. Regarding claims 63-68, there is nothing in applicant's arguments to suggest that the claimed features would not be expected to be retained upon SV40 immortalization.

Applicant discusses the difficulty in immortalizing sebocytes with SV40 but has not set forth how they overcame the difficulties. It is suggested that a further 132 declaration be provided to detail in length how applicant overcame the problems they have discussed. An explanation of past failures may also go establishing that there is no reasonable expectation of success.

Applicant's arguments have been considered however a showing to overcome a prima facie case of obviousness must be clear and convincing(In re Lohr et al. 137 USPQ 548) as well as commensurate in scope with the claimed subject matter (In re Lindner 173 USPQ 356; In re Hyson, 172 USPQ 399 and In re Boesch et al., 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-9, 23-38,40-42,44,45, 47 & 63-68 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zouboulis et al(Dermatology 196) or Rosenfield(6004751) in view of Bryan (Crit Rev Onc 5(4)).

Zouboulis and Rosenfield teach cell cultures of sebocytes particularly taken from facial sebaceous glands. Zouboulis teaches cell culture of sebocytes dates to at least 1989. The references do not teach that the cells are immortalized, however at the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious to immortalize the sebocytes of Zouboulis and/or Rosenfield because Bryan clearly teaches that cells in culture can be immortalized by SV40 and motivates one of ordinary skill in the art to do so because of the obvious advantages for study of having a cell line which does not die off. The method is not exclusive to Bryan and has been done for decades in scores of cell types. Given the breadth and success in the art of immortalization via SV40 (and other known immortalization techniques), there was clearly a reasonable expectation of success for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make an immortalized human sebocyte cell line. It follows that the immortalized cell line, per se, would have been obvious at the time the invention was made.

Accordingly, the claimed invention was prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.
